

Microsoft® SQL Server™ 2000, Database Implementation

This course provides the information needed to develop database solutions using SQL Server 2000 in organizations of any size.

Students will learn how to comprehend product architecture, write Transact-SQL code, and master the procedures for planning, configuring, and deploying a database using SQL Server 2000.

Duration:

- 5 Days, Instructor-led

Prerequisite:

- Course 100: Relational Database Design and Concepts

Topics Include:

- Overview of SQL Server
- Overview of Transact-SQL
- Creating Databases
- Creating Database Objects
- Data Integrity
- Planning and Creating Indexes
- Planning and Creating Indexes
- Implementing Views
- Implementing Stored Procedures
- Managing Transactions and Locks
- Implementing Triggers
- Working with Distributed Data
- Advanced Query Techniques